

North American M A R T Y R S C a t h o l i c S c h o o l

It's been quite the week. I think short weeks are always the harder weeks for me. I don't know if it's psychological or real. But this week has been full of meetings and construction. We are getting closer. Despite Father's hope, the ceiling did not come last Friday, but they are starting it today. It's lying in the space and it does look absolutely gorgeous. I can't believe this is going to be in our school. We are so blessed. The mess is slowly leaving behind a bit of the blessed. So, while it's a busy week, it's great to seem progress in so many areas of the school both physically and spiritually.

As we prepare for conferences, please try to think of a way to thank the teachers. They have been working their little tails off trying to get things ready and these short weeks catch them off guard too. Thanks for all you do and thanks for being so helpful in everything. God bless you and know of my prayers for you, Sr. Janelle
