

North American M A R^Y R S

Catholic School

I don't know about you, but I am tired of hearing about sad cases in the media. The Kavanaugh/Ford case, the Church, and I just read an article about a student in a high school being falsely accused by five classmates and it ruined his life. Regardless of where you stand on any case, I do not know what the answer is in all of this. I certainly don't know what I can do to individually make a difference, but I do pray. In a world of fear and sadness, we are so lucky we have Jesus. He's so loving and he knows our hearts and knows our needs all the time. North American Martyrs has a wonderful community, supportive families and wonderful and loving priests (and Religious, if I do say so myself ☺) who have a love for children and families and want to help people through. We are in a tough world and navigating it is nearly impossible. I worry for the kids who are just now growing up into this, and I'm so grateful we have the opportunity educate them in our school. Please know that as we navigate this world of sadness, you are all in my prayers. If there is anything I can do to help, I'm happy to, but my guess is, we all need the prayers. God is the giver of all good gifts and the friend and healer of all. Never underestimate His power.

~Sr. Janelle

"One of the greatest moments in the life of any Christian comes when we realize that a life with prayer is better than a life without prayer, and when we give it a place in our daily schedules."
