A NOTE FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear North American Martyrs Family,

This past Monday, Sr. Janelle Buettner was named Vice-Principal for Wahoo Newman Catholic School. This means that after nine years of serving our school and parish, she will be moving on. Sr. Janelle began her role at North American Martyrs during the 2013-14 school year. During Sr. Janelle's nine year journey as North American Martyrs Principal, she was able to oversee the construction of the new addition of the school. This included working with multiple donors to gain our beautiful library. She has served on numerous committees, as well as being a member of the executive board of Nebraska Department of Education Special Education Advisory Council (SEAC). She was also a representative for North American Martyrs and the Catholic schools at the Induction of Catholic School's week with the governor at the time. Sister Janelle created, designed, and implemented an intervention and special education program to support all NAM students. She was also known as a mentor to many Catholic school principals for the diocese. Sr. Janelle will be sorely missed as she brought great joy to the faculty, staff, and students at North American Martyrs.

We now ask that you bless the process we will begin in finding a new principal. We shall be forming a Selection Committee. We are involving representatives from the parents, teachers, and the parish to help facilitate finding the best candidate.

On a different note. Next week, I will be on the ministry team helping to lead a retreat-type program for a movement known as Eden Invitation. I have worked with Eden Invitation on their ministry team for almost two years now and have been edified by what they do. I look forward to sharing with the parish in more detail how this much needed movement has created a community filled with healing, teaching, and the Truth that Jesus Himself gave humanity.

~In Christ
Fr. Nathan Hall
