A Note from our Pastor...

Merry Christmas!

The main message that our Lord gives us at Christmas is this: we don't have a far-off God who looks at us from a distance. Instead, we have a God who enters our lives exactly where we are in order to help. The Incarnation (when God became a human just like us) demonstrates that we have a God who jumps headfirst into our stresses and messes to not only be there with us, but to show us the path to health.

This message has gotten lost to so many. The reality is we all have loved ones who do not know or experience this reality of who God is. Many have heard the "path to health" part, which is essentially Church's Teachings on living a moral life. However, they may have learned this second step without knowing/experiencing the first! Being told the do's and the do not's may have overshadowed the first step: God walked among us, looked at people with complete and perfect love, and then challenged them to something great. When this happens, people receive wounding rather than the guiding.

But this will be the main message at the Christmas masses that I am preaching. I really want to reach out to those who have left the Church and equip you, the reader of this, to do the same. Each one of us are first a child of God with all our experiences and questions. From that firm foundation, then build up to the way of life that Jesus gave. This Christmas season, see if there is an opportunity to first affirm your love for someone. Then, gently and simply, ask if they want to share their past experiences with the Church. Not to counter them. Not to correct them. But first receive it. Maybe later, maybe another day. That's when they feel comfortable enough to talk again.

Overall, we are not peoples' saviors ... Jesus is. And our loved ones have complete and total free will to receive or reject. But this Christmas, let's take the direction our loving God gave when He came from heaven. First, we enter into lives wherever they are with total love. Second, see if there can be any healing. Please know of my prayers for you all this Christmas season! May God bless you all!

In Christ,
~Fr. Hall

CHRISTMAS MASS OBLIGATIONS

With Christmas falling on a Monday this year, this means that there are two Mass obligations, the Sunday obligation and the Christmas obligation. A person cannot fulfill both obligations with one Mass.

In order to fulfill a Mass obligation, we must attend either on the day of the feast or on the evening preceding (Code of Canon Law 1248). Therefore, a Sunday morning Mass could not possibly qualify as satisfying the Mass obligation the following day, since it is in the morning.

In order to satisfy the Sunday obligation, a Catholic could attend the Saturday evening Mass or Mass at some time on Sunday. In order to satisfy the Christmas obligation, a Catholic could attend Mass on a Sunday at 4 p.m. or later or on Christmas Day itself on Monday. No matter how we slice it, two obligations equals two Masses.

With RaiseRight, you can always be fundraising for North American Martyrs, just by doing what you do every day. How it works: Earn by purchasing gift cards at face value from more than 750 top brands. Your earnings come directly from the brands you shop, not your pocket, so your gift cards are worth every penny. For the month of November, Martyrs has raised $200.48.

50% of this school year (2023-24) family rebate earnings will be credited toward next school years NAM school tuition (2024-25). This can be used for Preschool – 8th grade next school year. It's a brand-new idea, and still in the very early stages of planning, but we wanted to roll this idea out to you before one of the biggest shopping seasons of the year. When logging in, use link:

THE MIRACLE OF THE POINSETTIA

The deeper meanings behind the lovely Christmas plant

By Marge Fenelon - published on 12/23/14

For years, we've given and received poinsettias in gestures of kindness during the Christmas season. They're just so fittingly festive, with their mix of red and green leaves. What's more, they're relatively inexpensive and thoughtful at the same time. Did you ever wonder where that custom came from? I did, so I went exploring to find out. Here's what I discovered.

Poinsettias are native to Central America, and were used by the Aztecs in a number of ways, to dye clothes, make cosmetics, and create medicine to cure fevers. The plant was discovered in 1828 by John Poinsett, US Ambassador to Mexico. He sent some Poinsettia plants back to South Carolina and began to grow them, thus the name. One of Poinsett's friends, Robert Buist, began growing and selling them commercially. In 2002, Congress named December 12 National Poinsettia Day.

In the years since Poinsett brought the plants to the United States, poinsettias became known for their symbolism as well as their beauty. The shape of the plant's flower and leaves resemble the Star of Bethlehem, which led the Magi to the Christ Child. The red color reminds us of Christ's Blood, shed for our salvation. Some poinsettias have white leaves, which remind us of Christ's purity. Green symbolizes life and hope. Before I did my research, I thought poinsettias were "nice." Now, I think there magnificent!

Best of all is the old Mexican legend about how the poinsettia and Christmas became connected in the first place. Here's how it goes.

Once, there was a poor Mexican girl named Pepita who had no present to give the Baby Jesus at Christmas Eve Mass. As Pepita walked, sadly, to the chapel, her cousin Pedro tried to cheer her up.

"Pepita," he said. "I'm sure that even the smallest gift, given by someone who loves him, will make Jesus happy."

Still not knowing what she could give, Pepita picked a small handful of weeds from the roadside and made them into a bouquet. Having only this small present to give Jesus made Pepita embarrassed. As she walked through the chapel to the altar, she remembered what Pedro had told her. Feeling a bit better, she knelt down and laid the bouquet at the bottom of the nativity scene.

Amazingly, the bouquet of weeds burst into bright red flowers, and everyone who saw them were sure they had seen a miracle. From that Christmas Eve forward, the bright red poinsettia flowers were known as the "Flores de Noche Buena," or "Flowers of the Holy Night."

Advent is drawing to a close and I'm still scrambling to give something truly special to the Christ Child on the Holy Night. Like, Pepita, I'm feeling as though I really have nothing to offer – or at least not the something I'd hoped to have. I wanted super-spectacular-high-minded-soul-lifting-wildly-successful striving. Instead, all I've got is a decent try – a handful of roadside weeds.

Legend or not, I know that Pedro's words are true. Even the smallest gift, given by someone who loves him, will make Jesus happy. If I surrender my smallness to our Lord and bring him my pathetic bouquet at Christmas, it will miraculously burst into bright red flowers. And Jesus will be happy.
